THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD .-- A meeting of the Directory of the Southern Pacific Railroad was held at New Orleans on the 26th ult., and Geo. S. Yerger, Esq., of Mississippi, was elected president of the company. The board of directors is composed chiefly of Southern men, and this selection of a chief executive officer from the South will attract to the enterprize the sympathies and support of the whole South. The only difficulties that have bitherto been encountered in the prosecution of this great undertaking originated in the fact that the management was at first confided to Northern men of notoriety as speculators. Fears were entertained that it would, under such auspices, be converted into a mere fancy stock-jobbing affair, and a want of confidence was engendered which was unfavorable to the rapid prosecution of the work. These obections are now all happily removed and the company is completely identified with the South and placed under the control of gentlemen of such acknowledged ability and high standing as to command universal confidence.

The New Orleans Picayune thus alluded to the proposed change in the management of the company a few days before it was consummated:

a few days before it was consummated:

This road, of which we have had occasion to speak as an interprise in actual and propitious progress, will, we undersand, shortly be placed in a position to command the sympathies and the support of the whole South. It will be, as it ought to be, a Southern road, resting upon Southern sympathies, as well as upon Southern soil. Its directory will be in the main from the South, and a most distinguished citizen of a sister State will, in all likelihood, be its president. This is no more than what a wise forecast would have suggested at the commencement of the undertaking, as altogether the proper basis apon which the work should be pushed forward. The domicil of the road should be Southern, its directory, or a majority of them, near the seene of operations. If this policy be established, and we are assured that it will, it will remove the last remaining shade upon the company, which its supposed identity with the hapless adventurers who abused the public for some time with an inflated bubble, has left upon it.

The enterprise, prodigious as its proportions are, is, nevertheless, in a state of progrees—the work is going forward.

with an inflated bubble, has left upon it. The enterprise, prodigious as its proportions are, is, nevertheless, in a state of progress—the work is going forward to completion, alike triumphaut and wonderful, if its practical organization is such as to secure the confidence of the Southern people. If this road was in the North, with the inducements which it holds out to capitalists, its stock would scarcely find its way to the Ohio river. But intelligent men know that a great Southern highway, through Southern States, can not be constructed from Wall street; and if the attempt in this case were persisted in, the whole enterprise would degenerate into a fancy stock for jobbing. This the Northern stockholders are as sensible of as experience can make them; and hence amongst those whose object it is to build the road, the idea of removing thehead-anartys of the company South, is as popular as it is here, if need it was not suggested in that quarter.

Let incalculable value of such a road in complete fing, light, we shall not now speak; of its importance this city, we shall have many opportunities of speaking, Of its success we shall indulge no doubt, especially if the working organization, of which mention has been made, shall be consummated in good faith. We have been assured, by both Northern and Southern holders of stock, that this will be; and we trust that we shall announce the fact in a few days.

All that was promised has been done, and already renewed energy, increased confidence, and a more ealous support of the enterprize have been exten sively manifested. The new President, Mr. Yerger is most admirably fitted for that position. Strice integrity, ample capacity, and untiring perseverance are his well-known characteristics. His election is an evidence of the sound discretion of the gentlemen who compose the directory of the company, and there is no doubt, that, under his administra tion, the work will be industriously and economically prosecuted.

We have been informed that there are already elve hundred laborers at work upon the line of the id, and that arrangements have been consumma for sufficient means to complete two hundred tinuous miles of the track as fast as the grading be done and the superstructure placed upon it. understand also that an arrangement has been ected which secures a connection with the Mems and El Paso Company by which the western rtion of that road will be merged in the Southern acific. Thus, it seems that every conceivable imediment to the progress of this vast enterprize has en renoved, and it is now being pushed forward ith great alacrity. It will, without doubt, be one of the greatest thoroughfares of trade and travel in the world, and its immense resources, independent of the vast profits to be derived from its business. will give a value to its stock beyond all present con-

This is bold writing, and very good poe try: [For the Louisville Bulletin.] UNREACHED HOPE.

BY C. W. ANDERSON. Life sitteth heavily on me to-day.

I fold my wings and droop like a sick bird
In drizzling rain. My unreached hope still plays
On mocking wings before me, looking back
With flattering smile and heart-compelling air Like cruel maiden worrying her poor lover. I am the night, my sweet hope is the day, I follow her with an unceasing toil But reach her never. Hey-day! I am tired. This life is only promise after all. Yo's me! how long will my poor soul lament Her narrow faculty? When will the rein Be loos'd from her impatient neck? O soul, Thou art a curb'd steed—a musician sitting Before the muffled organ of great thoughts, Thy nerves are burning to strike out the notes. Thou touchest the white keys with touch of fire. All passionate and rapt thou listenest for them To answer thy sweet meaning—but they will not. Thou heavest a faint sound—poor adumbration.

Hey-day! I'm tired. I cannot reach my hope I've clomb and clomb 'till I am sick and faint And set me down half way to droop and die. Scornfullest hope, talking with the gay stars From the tall summit of her lovely dwelling! Ah, stars, ye have my hope and ye are happy. I wish I were a star to touch my hope, To wrap the mantle of my silver light Bout her sweet person. But I am no star. She scorns me groveling on this little speck Away down in the nether realms of night. And yet I homed her in the distant heaven. I set her there among the gleaming stars All silver-vestured with her jeweled grown Flaming with glory-sparkles on her brow.

Ungrateful hope! scornfullest hope! I scorn thee, I have thee in my power. I'll meet thee yet At the grand door of old eternity And thou wilt shrink before me like a beggar And thow who same before the first a began In kingly presence. I will take thy crown And dash it at my feet, and its rich jewels one moment will foam up around me like A splashed wave of water. I will tear Thy bright robes from thee and will hold thee up A naked skeleton for the laugh of angels And drive thee out to darkness and the night, Ha—it doth make me laugh for very scorn! A small hope pitted against the large soul-Child saucing its fair mother—foolish moon Scoffing in her white robe at the great sun, The opulent sun who from his treasury Doth rich her barren darkness with his light.

But, my poor soul! thou art a-weary now, The day is coming when thy powerful wings. Unclasped by the silver hand of death, Shall beat sublimer airs! UNION COUNTY, KY.

THE CALIFORNIA STATE DEBT .- The Supreme Court of California has re-affirmed! its judgment that debts contracted by the State, above the sum of $300,000, are unconstitutional, and the Legislalature, which is in session, does not seem to be in any hurry to provide for the difficulty by legalizing the over-issue. Several projects are before the Legislature to that end, but none have reached any point of definite action. Some opposition also is manifested in the Legislature, but the impression seems still to be that California will provide for the payment of her debts as honesty requires it should

It would be scandalously dishonest in her not to recognize the debt and make provisions for its payment. True, the State Constitution does not authorize the Legislature to incur debts to a greater amount than $300,000, but then the money has een borrowed and used, and the refusal to make payment would be an act utterly knavish, atrocious, and Mississippian in character.

FIRES AND ALARMS .- As is usual, Saturday night and Sunday were prolific of fires and alarms. The first, about midnight, proceeded from Hawkins & Trainor's foundry, on Main and Preston streets. Then the New Albany fire, which illuminated the heavens and attracted the notice and attention of our firemen. We give the particulars of this disastsr elsewhere. Just before day Miller, Wingate & Co.'s agricultural factory narrowly escaped destruction. There was an alarm from Peters, Cragg & Co.'s piano establishment, produced by a chimney chimney of a frame house on Walnut street, between Preston and Jackson, was burned out, causing an alarm.

EXPLOSION OF THE FOREST ROSE. - We have Ark., on the 30th ult. The boat was from New Orleans, and had a large cargo of freight for towns on the Arkansas river. She was owned by Capt. Allen, of Paducah, who had a son killed. Thompson, one of the engineers, and the bar-keeper and mate were also killed. Mr. Hurt, of this city, one of the pilots, was horribly mutilated and afterwards died.

Thirteen persons were wounded and taken to the United States Marine Hospital at Napoleon.

It has always been the boast of Col. Benton that he had never been in a foreign country .-Strangely enough however a few days ago he allowed himself to be drawn over the suspension bridge at Niagara into the British dominions. We are afraid Old Bullion is losing his intense patriotism.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

miles below Caseyville. Price 7 cents. m30 d12 The river had fallen about 6 inches in the twenty four hours ending last evening. There were then 6 feet 6 inches water in the canal. Considerable rain fell night before last. Yesterday the weather turned cold, and last evening we were visited by a regular snow storm. The ground was covered with snow to the depth of about an inch.

The steamer Watossa arrived here on Friday, with TREASURERseveral barges of lumber in tow. One of them sprung aleak, and the boat was detained until yesterday. In entering the canal the Watossa got on the rocks, but was soon relieved.

For New Orleans .- The steamer Ben Franklin, Capt. Anders, is the packet for New Orleans to-day The Ben is a large and splendid boat, and passengers will be well accommodated on her.

For St. Louis.-The Fashion, Capt. Reid, Messrs Smith and De Hart clerks, is the packet for St. Louis

The Diamond is advertised to leave for Evansville to-day, and the W. A Eaves for Henderson.

The Jacob Strader is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day, and the R. F. Sass will leave for Pittsburg this evening.

The following we take from the Memphis Bulletin of Wednesday:

We learn that the bell-hoat sent down to raise the Shotwell has broken some of her machinery, which renders the fact of here being saved extremely doubtful, particularly with the river rising as fast as it is at pre-ent. The water is now several feet over her main deck, and a rise of a few feet would endanger her cabin and upper works.

Sunk .- The Wheeling and Sunfish packet Michigan No. 2 was sunk last week by running against some piles placed on the river bank to prevent its caving in. The boat was owned by her officers, and was not insured.

Snspended .- The steamboat inspectors of the Nashville district have investigated the collision between the steamers Chattanooga and Delegate, which occurred lately in the Cumberland river. The pilot of the Chattanooga, Wilson Dann, did everything in his power to avoid the collision, but he neglected to give a signal with his whistle, and his license was therefore suspended for thirty days.

The pilots of the Delegate, George Hugle and Matheny, did not obey the summons of the inspectors to appear before them. They therefore Revoke the license of said Hugle, until he shall appear before this Board with his witnesses and shall answer to the charges preferred against him. The revocation to be entered by Shallcross, supervising inspector at Louisville, or Haldeman and Guthrie, local inspectors of Cincinnati, or by any local board of inspectors in the United States; and further, that should any captain, owner, or agent employ said Hugle in the capacity of a pilot, to deal with them as the law provides in such cases, unless he shall produce a clear license, free from any objections, from under our proper signatures; that when the from under our proper signatures; that when the said Hugle shall appear, producing his own wit-nesses at his individual expense, we will then determine his case further.

Third, that so far as Matheny is concerned, for his contempt to this board, we hold in reservation our verdict for further consideration.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN NEW ALBANY .- The lurid flames which illumined the whole western sky on Sunday morning about 1 o'clock, proceeded from a very destructive fire in New Albany. This fire originated in a frame building on the wharf, used as a Dutch coffee house by Mrs. John Nicholson, where a number of persons were drunk and gambling. They dropped a light upon the floor, and hence the conflagration. The fire speedily extended and destroyed the shop of N. Deacon, wheel and block maker, and the new brass foundry of J. H. Dorst. An old building in the rear of Mr. Deacon's was burned. burning out. The Cincinnati Gazette there will be a loss of from ten to fifteen per cent. The great bulk, consisting of cordage, oakum, oils, paints, &c., is a total loss-but very little was saved. The building was valued at $4,000, on which there was $3,000 insurance. Mr. Bushnell's actual loss will orobably not fall below $14,000.

The third story of Mr. B.'s building was occupied by Wm. Daily, sail maker. His stock amounted probably to $1,000, on which there was no insurance. nor did he save anything.

From our friends of the New Albany Tribune, to whom we are indebted for various facts, we learn that this fire, which burned the buildings on an entire square, caused a loss of at least $40,000, and they attribute it to nothing else than whisky. A SNOW STORM.-We can appreciate the meaning of Coleridge's line-

"The Spring comes slowly up this way."

In the second month of the vernal season, when riolets should abound and blue birds make musicwhen sunshine should produce its peculiar fever, and the trees bud and blossom-when almost anything else would be seasonable, we have had that most unseasonable occurrence, a snow storm.

Last night the snow lay upon the ground more sure, but with the regularity of a mid-winter storm.

A Solid Negro.-We are informed that Mr. J. D. Cunningham, of Cedar Grove, Breckinridge co., owns a negro boy seven years old, who weighs 140 ounds, and measures around his chest 41 inches. He is 49 inches high, and of good action. Mr. C. has been offered as much as $2,000 for this boy by persons desirous of exhibiting him, but has invariably and properly refused to sell.

PATENT SADDLE-TREES,-We were shown on Sa urday a new patent saddle-tree which will padonbt-edly supercede every other saddle-tree that is now made. It is a modification of the Spanish tree, by making the cantle a spring to which is attached a leather ground seat giving a simple, easy, and comfortable spring superior in every respect to any dle-tree we have seen. The spring is of Indiaber, it is not liable to get out of order, and is ver simple in its construction. For comfort, de simplicity, and cheapness it appears to us to be far the best spring saddle-tree in existence. It has been patented by Seth Ward, of Princeton, Ind and the patent is owned by Charles Babcock, Evansville, Ind., to whom application can be made for State and county rights.

This tree will be received with favor throughout the West, and wherever it is introduced it will supercede all others.

We have not said a word in disparagement of the conductors of the Frankfort railroad. We think highly of them all. MATTERS IN NEW YORK .- The following we copy from the N. Y. Times of Thursday:

A singular will case came up yesterday before the Surrogate. Mrs. Bassford and daughter, two of the lost passengers on the Lyonnais, were the principal legatees in the will of Mrs. Margaret Clayton, who also was lost in the Lyonnais. BEAUMARCHAIS AND HIS TIMES - Sketches of French Society in the 18th Century. By Louis de Lomènie. Translated by Henry S. Edwards. New York: Harper & Brothers.

Beaumarchais was one of the most remarkable men produced by France during the last century. Born in humble life, he became scarcely less noted in politics than in laterature. His fame as the Euther of the "Barber of Seville" and "The Marriage of Figaro" have given him more celebrity as a dramatic writer than has hitherto been attached to him as a politician, but Mons. de Lomènie has recorded in this biography the incidents which show his intimate connection with many of the most important political movements in France during the period of

As a protegé of the daughters of Louis XV, be obtained a footing at the Court of France, and from that time his history became closely connected with the most prominent personages of French history. As courtier and speculator, his life was chequered with various adventures during the reigns of Louis XV and Louis XVI, and throughout the Revolution. Sometimes in favor with and controlling the King, the Ministry, and the Directory, and often engaged in important enterprises and negotiations, and as often broken in fortune and suspected by the dominent party, his biography gives the reader interesting glimpses of French society from the court to the prison during the Eighteenth century, a period peculiarly rich in historic incidents and celebrated personages.

PROF. REASOR'S LECTURE. - The weather on Saturday evening was highly unpropitious yet a comparatively large audience was assembled to hear Prof. Reasor. The theme, though so fraught with interest, was an unusual one, which, together with the known ability of the lecturer, rendered it doubly attractive.

The groves were God's first temples. He manifested himself in the flaming sword at the gates of Paradise, again at the passage of the Red Sea, and through the desert as a pillar of fire and a pillar of cloud. But the temple where the visible presence of God rested, the Shekinah of the divine presence, a house built according to his own directions, and where the Savior in his anthropomorphic nature had sat and walked and taught, must present much of interest to the Christian mind. Prof. R. gave a general description of the Second Temple, as it is called, which he illustrated by a chart. Of course he could give only a mere outline of it. It would require a dozen such lectures to make the description a perfect one. The auditory seemed much interested and went away desiring to know more of the subject. We understand Prof. R. has in preparation a work on this subject and will make all possible expedition in laying it before the public. From the patient toil he has expended and the capabilities of the Professor we may expect a volume of great wortha perfect exhumation-and strictly truthful description of the Temple of Jerusalem.

FRAUD IN FISH .- The Philadelphia Ledger says that city is the largest market in the United States for mackerel for consumption. It is charged that some dealers there are in the habit of repacking the mackerel received from Massachusetts, filling up with salt, and then branding the packages as having been inspected in Massachusetts. This, the Ledger learns, is carried to such an extent that a purchaser in buying twenty-five pounds will probably receive but sixteen pounds. In consequence of this fraud, several merchants of Philadelphia have received from Mr. Wm. F. Davis, Inspector General of Fish for Massachusetts, a list of his deputy inspectors, which has been published, so that the public can ascertain if the brand upon the package is a genuine one.

THE LATE NEWS FROM NICARAGUA. - The following details of the Nicaragua news we copy from the New York Tribune of Friday. The Tribune does not favor Walker;

The news from Rivas, Nicaragua, headquarters of Gen. Walker, is up to the 18th, Gen. Walker and army were in good health, and had plenty of provisions and ammunigood health, and had plenty of provisions and ammunition.

On the 16th, Gen. Walker, with 400 men, made an attack on 8t. George, occupied by about 2,000 of the enemy. After driving the enemy and gaining the Plaza, he burned a part of the town most important to the allied army, when he learned that about 1,200 of the enemy, under Gen. Chanmors, had marched by another road to make an attack of Rivas, whereupon Gen. Walker marched for that place, and met the enemy in full retreat at the forks of three roads, hotly pursued by Gen. Henningsen and his command, who had driven them out of Rivas, upon their attack, with great slaughter.

On either side of the road, where the allied forces were met by General Walker, was an impenetrable growth of cactus, making it impossible for them to escape, and placing them between the deadly fire of General Walker in their front and General Henningson in their rear, in consequence of which the allies were completely pante-stricken, and throwing down their arms, stood paralyzed, meeting their fate with little or no resistance. Nearly all their officers were killed, and very few of their troops escaped being killed or wounded.

their fate with little or no resistance. Nearly all their omcers were killed, and very few of their troops escaped being killed or wounded.

The allies, by their own account, lost 327 killed and over 500 wounded. Gen. Waiker estimates their loss at about 1,100-500 killed and 500 wounded. Gen. Waiker's loss was 2 killed and all wounded. The slaughter was so great that Gen. Waiker was anable to properly bury the dead, and was compelled to order the bodies burned, to prevent pur trefaction and insure the heaith of the city of Rivas, which order was being carried out. The sloop-of-war St. Mary's was at San Juan del Sur when the Orizaba left.
It is reported and generally believed that Gen. Canas, the Commander-in-Chief of the allies, is under arrest for having made certain overtures to Gen. Walker; also that Gen. Chillon had raised a body of men in Leon and was about to march to join Walker, and that President Rivas had been assassinated. The last report is said to be confirmed by a letter received at Greytown by the wife of his son, Ramon Rivas. Spencer, Vanderbilt's agent, has left the country, and was to have sailed on the Illinois. It is reported that Gen. Mora, becoming suspicious of him, had written to his brother, President Mora replied that "the man who would betray his own countrymen would betray any one," and to watch his movements with the utmost scrutiny.

Colonel Lockridge, on the San Juan river, had received written to hereto, and President Mora replied that "the man who would betray his own countrymen would betray any one," and to watch his movements with the utmost scrutiny.

Colonel Lockridge, on the San Juan river, had received another strong re-enforcement of Texans, with a large amount of provisions and ammunition, and with the steamer J. N. Scott, recently retaken, which had been thoroughly repaired, proceeded up the river.

The command of Col. L. now garrison the only two communications by water to Costa Rica en the San Juan river, viz: at Hipp's Point, mouth of the Sarapiqui river, 210 men, under the command of Col. F. B. Anderson; and San Carlos Island, at the mouth of San Carlos river, 188 men, under the command of Gen. C. R. Wheat; the balance, 152 men, in the advance, near Machuca Rapids, under the immediate command of Col. Lockridge.

On the 18th Col. L. recomoitered the enemy's position at Castilla, and from prisoners taken gained the important information that Walker had gained a great victory, and the allies had fallen back on Massaya or Grenada, completing propositions of peace, the Costa Ricans not willing to join the conference, but had sent "Yanderbilt's agent, Spencer," out of the country, and have only 350 men at San Carlos, under Gen. Mora.

Col. Lockridge has 500 men with 7 pieces of artillery, pienty of small arms, ammunition, and provisions, and is now more confident of his success than ever.

Statement of a Passenger. — We left San Francisco on the 5th ult., on board the steamship Orizaba. We reached San Juan del Sur on Thursday, 19th of March, and then heard that Walker had fought a great battle, in which he lost about 50 or 60 killed, while it was said that the enemy acknowledged having had about 300 killed, but Walker's men insisted that between 600 and 700 of the allied troops were left dead upon the battle-field. The hattle was reported to have lasted two days, the 15th and 16th tils. But from conversation which I had with the American Consu. Prist, and Dr. Flint, I am disposed to p caught with them upon me I destroyed them; and, having understood that Col. Rogers was on board of the Orizaba, I tried to see himfor the purpose of explaining the matter to him; and, in the course of a conversation with a friend of Col. Rogers relative to this point, I gathered some information as regards Walker's present position at Rivas.

of Col. Rogers relative to this point, I gathered some information as n gards Walker's present position at Rivas.

The gentleman alluded to said that Walker could hold Rivas if he would stay there, but he would now and then turn out to attack the enemy and get his small force cut up, so that he had now only about 400 fighthing men and 200 sick and wounded. But he was in a d—d tight place and without provisions, at least so much so that he had been compelled to commence killing their milk cows, and must soon cave in unless he could get supplies from some source or other very soon. In alluding to the great number of men who had deserted Walker, he said it was too had that so many of his best men had left him, but you know, sale, "that $12 was enough to induce one of his officers to run away, let alone his men." (the Costa Ricans giving each deserter from Walker $12 in addition to paying his passage to the States). The Orizaba brought down 21 men for Walker, but on their arrival at San Juan del Sur, Walker's officers were obliged to send to the steamer for food to feed them with that night, there not being enough obtainable on shore to give them for their suppers.

Major Torrey, of Walker's army, and very favorably disposed to be leader, who came a passenger to Key West, on being asked by a friend who was about joining Walker his advice, recommended him to keep away; and from conversation I had with Capt. Farmer, who had been on the San Juan river expedition, I am satisfied that Walker's fate is sealed. Col. Titus had landed at San Juan del Sur and gone up to Rivas. Everything looks very gloomy at San Juan del Sur. It contained perhaps 600 to 700 inhabitants last December, but now I should not think that there were more than twenty-five persons living there, all told. The houses are now doorless and windowless, and the buildings are evidently going to ruin. Were it not for the United States ship St. Marys being stationed there, the Costa Ricans would at once take possession of the place.

We had a personal intervi rations. How do those who are forced to stay there fare?

[From the Aspinwall Courier Extra, March 28.]

The force under Lockridge is now considerably more than 400—120 of which will remain at Sarapiqui, and 75 at Fort Slatter, at the mouth of the St. Carlos river. These stations are to be permanently garrisoned.

The only item of news of any importance known at San Juan from the interior was the death of ex-President Rivas by assassination at Leon. The news was received by the wife of Ramon Rivas, the son of the deceased.

It appears that the Costa Rican force that drove Colone Titus from Castillo consisted of only 50 men, while the force under Titus numbered about 200.

The United States ship Saratoga left this morning for Havana.

SENTENCE OF THE GUILTY PHYSICIAN .- Doctor THE WAGON-ROADS TO CALIFORNIA - ROUTES TO BE PURSUED.

WASHINGTON, March 31. Washington, March 31.

Of the three wagon-roads provided for by the act of the last Congress, that lying between Fort Defiance, New Mexico, to the Colorado river, near the mouth of the Majave (which river is the eastern boundary of California at that point), is not required to be constructed by contract, are the others, although the work will be performed under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior. This road is about four hundred miles in length, according to the information of gentlemen who are acquainted with about four hundred miles in length, according to the information of gentlemen who are acquainted with the geography of the country, and for the construction of which the $50,000 appropriated by Congress is deemed to te sufficient. It is important by reason of its connection with Missouri or Arkansas.

Early in May a large body of troops, under the command of Lieut. Col. Johnson, 1st Cavalry, will start from the western boundary of Missouri, on the parallel of 37, to run and mark the southern boundary of Kansas to the eastern boundary of New Mexico. The country over which that line passes is ary of Kansas to the eastern obtuinary of Kansas to the eastern obtuined with that line passes is mostly prairie, well watered, and presents but few obstacles to travelers. The wagons necessary to carry supplies for the troops, heavily ladened with provisions and stores, will compel the commander of the party to improve the crossing of the streams and lead extractions described to make a comparatively easy. the party to improve the crossing of the streams and level steep descemts, to make a comparatively easy way for the trains. Thus it is conjectured there will be a good wagon way constructed from Western Missouri to the eastern boundary of New Mexico. Before reaching the latter the parallel of 37 crosses the great trail leading from Independence to Santa Fe, which has been traveled for more than thirty wars. After striking this trail there is a good road years. After striking this trail there is a good road leading to Santa Fe or Abuquerque, Fort Defiance is situated from one hundred and fifty to two hundred miles westward of those places, from either of which there is a road, over which the supplies for troops at the Fort have been transported, and which is pronounced by officers of the army, who have traveled over it, a good wagon-road. During a year of scarcity in New Mexico the commandative statement of the supplied to go westdant at that military post was compelled to go west-ward of the fort from one hundred and fifty to two hundred miles to the villages inhabited by the Mo-quia Indians, who raise larger supplies of grain than they consume, and are peaceable and inoffen-sive.

Thus when the Southern boundary line of Kar sas shall have been surveyed, there will be a good wagon road on this route, without much labor, to these Indian villages, which are only distant 250 miles from the terminus of the Fort Defiance and colorado wagon road. It is expected that orders will soon be given, and by midsummer men employed in its construction, and that the road can be constructed to the Colorado river, and the report of the superdintendent be received in time to be presented to Congress early in the next session.

From the west bank of the Colorado river there is good grazing and water, and it is believed that the line of road will proceed up the Majave river to the source near the Tagon Pass. That portion of the road, from the head o the Majave river, through the Tagon Pass to the head of the San Joachim river, has already been traveled by the wagons of the settlers in the neighborhood of that Pass. On line of road, from one hundred and fifty miles of Missouri, lies the country inhabited by the Cherokee Indians, who raise a surplus of all agricultural products; and about one hundred miles east of the River del Norte, the New Mexico settlements ap-

It is said that this route can be traveled as well in winter as in summer.

From these statements, it appears that by next winter there will be a good wagon-road to the State of California irrespective of the other two—the Fort Kearney and El Paso—for which the act of Congress

Soy, the commander of the packet, turned her head and ran off to sea again. packet, turned her head and ran off to sea again. During the time of this almost complete darkness the wind blew from the south, and the sea was frightfully disturbed.

Although the Pera proceeded 40 or 50 miles out to sea again, still the dense fog prevailed far to seaward, and, toward the coast, darkness literally overward, and, toward the coast, darkness interarly over-spread the land of Egypt. This phenomenon lasted for eight hours, when the fog cleared away, the wind lulled, and the sea went down. This extraordinary appearance was owing to what is called the khamp-seen or sand storm, and its extending so far to sea est unusual circumstance. From the direc tion of the wind, the khampseen must have origina ted in the Great Sahara. It raises the sand there in ted in the Great Sanara. It raises the sand there in masses which move in a spiral figure, and the heavy particles of sand soon drop to the earth, while the smaller ones, or the pulverized sand, is carried away to a distance. The people on board the Pera found afterward the khampseen had blown down trees, turned over railway carriages, and forced cattle into the canal between Alexandria and Cairo.

A Madrid letter of the 9th of March says: The projected expedition against Mexico assumes an aspect of some importance. Considerable preparations are making. General Pezuela is spoken of for the chief command. The choice of the Government is said to be between him and General Lersundi, the present Minister of Marina.

Dr. King's Dispensary.

DR. A. KING, a practitioner of New York for the last thirty years, has opened a Dispensary on Market, bet. First and Second, nearly opposite the Graham House, Lousville, for the treatment of Private Diseases, such as Gonorhoea, Syphilis, and all diseases of the skin and other derangements growing out of neglect or imperfect cure. His long experience and success enable him to act with confidence. All those who may confide their cases to him may rest assured of having the disease effectually cured and every vestige of the difficulties perfectly eradicated from their constitutions.

STRICTURES of old or recent date effectually cured in a few days by an operation which causes no pain. Where a stricture exists, general derangement of the whole constitution must ensue, a continuance of which will bring on a train of symptoms to be dreaded, and will undermine the constitution and cause premature old age.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Particular attention will be given to this disease and all the consequences growing out of it, brought ou, in many cases, by the destructive habits of inconsiderate youth and excessive indulgence of the passions, which undermine the constitution, rendering the subject unfit for either business or society, and causing premature old age.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS. - Monday, April 6. Not a single prisoner arraigned this morning. But this is the first Monday of the month, and indictments abound. A jury is empanneled and sworn, and the Judge begins with the docket. Three hours are consumed in calling over the cases before one is brought to trial. Witnesses are dead or absent. Lawyers plead various excuses, and all are postponed or dismissed until Richard Elston, for carrying a concealed weapon, is presented. The jury considers his case for some time and finally agree to disagree.

The Richmond Reporter, of March 21, says of the late severe norther:

The cotton is hopelessly destroyed. The corn cut down is not a total loss, as some fields are shewing signs of life. The fruit trees, which were in a forward condition, have lost their entire crops. Figs and peaches, which had grown to a considerable size, had been found, on examination, to be blackened at the core, and throughly killed.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Reported for the Evening Bulletin.

NEW YORK, April 6. The New York Tribune publishes a statement furnished by a passenger that arrived by the Texas, a native of Nicaragua, and formerly an adherent of Gen. Walker. He asserts that the report of Walker's victory on the 6th is entirely unfounded. He was at the camp of Gen. Canas just previously to the 18th, at which time Walker's whereabouts was unknown, having a few days previously abandoned the camp at Rivas with the intention of reaching the the camp at Rivas with the intention of reaching the seaccast.

The Tribune's informant further states that the correspondence between Canas and Walker, which has been tortured into a foundation for the statement that Carlas was ready to join the fillibusters, was in reality with reference to the surrender of the latter, Walker having proposed to submit provided he and his men were permitted to leave the country. Canas replied, offering passports to the whole force except Walker, whom he expressed his determination to deliver up to the Costa Ricans.

The result of the correspondence was the refusal of terms on the parts of Walker's adherents and their subsequent flight to the seaccast. An American naval officer at San Juan appealed to Canas in behalf of Walker and his troops, and Canas replied that he would pay the expenses of the whole force to the United States, excepting Walker, who must be delivered up.

New York, April 6.

The Herald publishes letters from Gen. Henningsen, referred to yesterday. They purport to give an account of Gen. Walker's recent victories and are dated March 19th, the day the steamer Texas left San Juan, and proffers have been sent by express to the steamer. Letters give but few details, but refer to letters previously written, which letters it is pretended by Walker's partisans were purloined on the route. There are no signatures to the documents, and they are all addressed to Mr.

They all contain unmistakable marks of fabrication.

WASHINGTON, April 6. The Union contains Mr. Appleton's valedictory The Union contains Mr. Appleton's valedictory on withdrawing from that paper, and also contains the official announcement of his appointment as Assistant Secretary of State, vice Mr. Thomas, resigned. Mr. Appleton gives as a reason for his withdrawal from the Union, the delicate state of his health, which did not admit the assumption of the peculiar anxieties and labors of a daily newspaper editor. With regard to his successor he says that he will make his own announcement to the readers of the Union, and, except to add that he is a Demoof the Union, and, except to add that he is a Demo-crat and has proved his constancy to his principles, and will become its sole and exclusive proprietor, we need not further allude to him at this time.

NEW YORK, April 6. Private letters received here from Wilmington, N. C., mention disastrous fires in the woods in that neighborhood, and it is feared all the tupentime trees will be destroyed. One producer alone has lost 20,000 trees.

HARRISBURG, April 6. Mr. Penrose, of Philadelphia, is lying dangerously ill at Herr's Hotel, with an attack of plurisy. His recovery is regarded as doubtful. BALTIMORE, April 5.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated. Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

this mighty country. Meeting the them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wenderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and visor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION. The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has in-tuced many imitations, which the public should guard gainst purchasing. Whatever opinions may exist elsewhere as to the probability of a war between Spain and Mexico, no such impression, is entertained in well-informed quarters here. The notes of preparation are not considered serious, and their solution, which is by no means distant, will expose the weak deception that has been practiced upon the credulity of those who were disposed to accept appearances for fact. Vessels of war may be sent to rendezvous at Havana, but they will be sent back again without having fulfilled the object of a seemingly warlike mission. Amidst the unceasing distractions of the court at Madrid, any chance was gladly seized upon by which attention could be directed from their own internal strifes, and concentrated upon some object that might enlist, even for a time, the sympathy and spirit of the nation. The Spaniard is jealous of national as of personal honor, and Mexico had affronted it, in the neglect or refusal to punish the murderers of Spanish supjects, alleged to be in its service under the command of General Alvabez. This case offered an opportunity for a sensation. The Spanish Charge d'Afrarcs at Mexico demanded his passports, returned home and laid the case before the Ministry. They invoked the Cortes to come to the rescue of the country, and bury the hatchets of of fraction. The upshot of this appeal was the preparation of which we hear so much, and are destined to see so little; and the end will be, another of the many farces which are too often played upon the stage of nations.

TRIAL OF REV. MR. MR. KALLOCH FOR ADUL TERY, Boston, Wednesday, April 1.

Second Day.—The trial of Rev. Mr. Kalloch for adultery was continued to-day at Cambridge. E. B. Baily, one of the proprietors of the Lechmere House, resumed his testimony yesterday, and occupied the stand for several hours. The gist of the testimony was, that suspecting something, he took measures to have a peep into the private room engaged by Mr. Kalloch when he and his female companion returned from the lecture. This was accomplished by a large key forcing an aperture at the top of the door, through which could be seen the bed in the room and a portion of the floor. The bed was not disturbed by the defendant, except to take from it a pillow, when the witness says the parties occupied the floor together, but in a part of the room rather out of the range of his peeping hole. It would seem that the gentleman is satisfied that his wife is blameless, and the testimony relating to her alleged criminality appeared to make no unfavorable impression upon him.

Those portions of the evidence describing the alleged endearments of the loving couple seemed rather to excite merriment than otherwise.

The stock of pork at New York on the 1st inst., was 25,758 bbls against 22,460 bbls last year, and the stock of beef on the 1st was 23,220 bbls against 69,527 bble same time last year. The discouraging advices by the Asia again unsettled the flour market and exporters withdrew; prices, except in the jobbing way, must be regarded entirely nominal: Wheat is dull at $1 06 for prime red. Whisky steady, with sales of 2,100 bbls at 23c. Clover seed declined to $7 10, several parcels arriving from the West. Previsions very firm, but the business done was moderate—sales of 150 hhds bacon sides at 11c, 300,000 the bulk meats at 734c for shoulders and 9%c for sides, mess pork held at $22 and buyers only seem willing to pay $21 50, sales of 600 packages country lard at 13%c for bbls and 14c for keg, prime in bbls is held at 14c NEW YORK, April 4, P.
